

ROBBERS BATTLE CITIZENS OF WING

RENEW APPEAL TO PAY SILENT
TRIBUTE HERE

Legion Speakers Carry Message of Armistice Day Program
Into Theaters

SCHOOLS WILL JOIN IN

American Legion Plans Housewarming to be Held Friday Afternoon in Hall

Four-minute speakers, who appeared at local theaters last night, will again tonight emphasize the request of President Harding that all people join in the two-minute silent tribute to the soldier dead of the World War on Armistice day, Friday afternoon.

The tribute will be paid at 11 o'clock, and in Bismarck will be in the Northern Pacific park at the flagpole, following the parade in which all citizens are urged to join. Complete suspension of activities generally is asked at this particular time.

The Legion committee having charge of the plans today received assurance from a number of cigar stands, news-stands and restaurants that they would suspend business from 10:50 to 11:10 on Friday. A proclamation will be issued tomorrow by Mayor Lenhart calling upon all citizens to join in the observance and cessation of business activities at the time of the tribute.

Carrying the message of Armistice day into the schools, G. H. Russ, Jr., A. A. Jones, Dr. W. E. Cole, P. G. Harrington, Dr. W. H. Bodensiek and Dr. J. O. Anderson will speak at 8 o'clock Friday at the various school buildings. The speakers for the theaters tonight are Rex, G. H. Russ, Jr.; Eltinge, P. G. Harrington; Bismarck, Frank Henry.

Open House Planned.

An open house is planned by the American Legion as a part of the program on Armistice day, November 11. In the afternoon the Legion club rooms will be open to all ex-service men of the county. The Legion invites all those who were in the service to join in the "house warming," regardless of whether they are members of the Legion.

Other Legion activities of the day include the musical play, "Look Who's Here," at the Auditorium Friday afternoon and night.

The parade forms on Fourth street, the right resting on Thayer street. The Legion will take front rank in the parade, followed by Boy Scouts, school children and representatives of societies, who will form on Fourth street above Rosser. Automobiles will form on Rosser, east of Fourth.

The line of march follows:
South on Fourth to Main; west on Main to second; north on Second to Broadway; east on Broadway to Seventh; south on Seventh to Main and west on Main to the Northern Pacific park.

The parade will move at 10:15 prompt.

SAYS SOLDIERS
SHOT COMRADES

Washington, Nov. 9.—Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, a former officer in the army, declared in the house that while he had no substantiation of the charge he "had reason to believe that soldiers who were traitors, cowards or mentally unfit were shot by their own comrades while facing the enemy."

The statement was hotly denied by Representative Butwinckle, Democrat, North Carolina, also a former officer, who declared he would not permit the Johnson statement to go unchallenged.

WHERE DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE WILL MEET

This is the Pan-American Union building at Washington where most of the meetings of the international conference on the limitation of armaments will be held. Some of the public sessions will be held in the Memorial Continental Hall. All closed sessions will be in the Pan-American Union building.

FOUR QUESTIONS
AT ARMS MEET

Upon Their Answer Depends
Fate of Disarmament
Conference

Washington, Nov. 9.—England, Japan and China hold the fate of the world in their hands.

America will play a stupendous part in the proceedings, and success at the armament parley here will depend a great deal upon her. But hers will be a steering job, a job of ways and means, whereas a turn of the hand of either of the other three nations may flip a monkey-wrench into the works and tear up the whole machinery.

This sums up the situation here on the eve of the great conference to avoid war.

Four Main Questions

Four questions are uppermost here and the answers—which only the conference itself can determine with accuracy—are awaited with anxiety.

FIRST, will England continue to play with Japan and give Nippon her moral backing, or will she support her nationals in the Orient and elsewhere overseas, who demand a new deal in the Far East?

SECOND, will the Japanese general staff lay down the law to the mikado's representatives here and stand pat on its policy of "paramount interests in Asia" or will the influence of liberal Japan be sufficient to turn the tide in favor of a genuine application of the policy of the "open door" in that part of the world?

THIRD, will China, helpless to help herself, allow her pride to prevent her accepting the international assistance she must have—if she is to survive—or will she draw back within her ancient shell and work up anti-foreign sentiment which in time would surely bring intervention—and a probable clash between the intervening powers.

FOURTH, will Secretary of State Hughes be able to juggle these three highly explosive bombs without letting one fall, reconciling England and Japan to the American ideal of equal opportunities in Asia, or will he find the conflict of interests too great to overcome?

These four points must each receive its right answer if the conference is to be saved and a catastrophe averted.

Profess Optimism
The delegation leaders themselves profess optimism.

Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the British admiralty, in an interview, stated England was ready to go the limit on disarmament. She would stop only at the point beyond which the safety of the empire would be imperiled.

Admiral Kato, Japanese minister of marine, said Japan would even agree to cut her "eight-and-eight" naval program if Japan could be shown that her interests would not suffer by reason of such a cut.

Dr. W. Yen, Chinese foreign minister, told me China wants the open door policy carried out in China, but China would like to do the opening instead of having the great powers break it open—maybe to close it again.

Washington atmosphere is filled with "ifs" and "buts."

Even American officials have issued warnings against too much optimism. Reduced to its essence, the feeling on the eve of the conference is "hopeful" rather than "expectant."

For though each arriving delegation gives out interviews announcing willingness amounting to eagerness to disarm, there is always an "if."

And what each of the powers really intends to do remains as dark a mystery as it was the day the conference was proposed.

KITTY HARRIS
STAYS IN JAIL

The supreme court has sustained the district court of Ward county in placing Kitty Harris, who had been convicted under the anti-narcotic act and given a suspended sentence in jail for violation of the order of suspension, in order that she might receive medical treatment and upon direct report to report later. Failing to report she was incarcerated. The supreme court held her detention legal even after the expiration of six months elapsed time from the date of the first commitment.

1,000 MARINES WILL GUARD U. S.
MAIL TRAINS AND POSTOFFICES

Washington, Nov. 9.—With a declaration of open warfare by the postoffice department on the bandits responsible for the startling series of mail robberies, 1,000 United States Marines are proceeding to duty today as guards of mail trains and trucks and at postoffices in 15 cities. They will be armed with pistols and sawed-off shotguns and are under orders from Major General La Jeune, commandant of the marine corps, to shoot to kill if necessary to prevent looting of the mails.

By tonight General La Jeune said practically all trains in the country carrying valuable mail will be under guard.

DEMOCRATS IN CLEAN SWEEP
IN NEW YORK

Tammany Carries City By Unprecedented Plurality For Mayor Hylan

New York, Nov. 9.—Democratic candidates headed by Mayor John F. Hylan made a clean sweep of the principal city and county offices in yesterday's municipal election the mayor receiving the unprecedented plurality of 417,986.

There was a heavy slump in the socialist vote.

Democrats Gain
New York, Nov. 9.—One state, Kentucky, has passed from Republican to Democratic control as the result of yesterday's elections as shown in returns available this morning.

In Maryland where the entire lower house of the legislature, and 13 out of 27 members of the senate were elected and Democrats increased their control in both houses.

In Kentucky the Democrats regained control of the state legislature, lost to the Republicans two years ago and claimed 58 out of 100 members to the lower house and 19 out of 36 seats in the senate.

Returns for two senatorial districts were incomplete this morning. Mrs. Mary Flannery of Catlettsburg had apparently won the honor of being the first woman to be elected to the Kentucky legislature.

G. O. P.
New Jersey Republicans claimed to have elected 41 assemblymen out of a total of 60 seats contested, and asserted the party lineup in the senate would stand as it did last year—15 Republicans, 6 Democrats. The "wet and dry" issue played a prominent role in that state, the Republicans standing for strict enforcement of the state prohibition act while the Democrats favored its modification or repeal.

Only one governorship hinged on yesterday's balloting, Virginia electing state senator Trinkle, Democrat, by a large majority over Henry W. Anderson, Republican.

For Soldier Bonus
The voters of Ohio apparently were heavily in favor of the soldiers' bonus proposal, announcement being made by Secretary of State Smith that in his opinion it would be carried by 77,000.

The bonus proposal would call for an amendment to the state constitution which would authorize the issuance of state bonds up to $2,000,000 out of which Ohio veterans of the Great War would be paid $10 for each month in the service, the total payments to any man not exceeding $250.

Fatal riots occurred in Kentucky. Ten persons are reported to have been killed and nearly a score wounded.

ASK ANOTHER
JUDGE IN CASE

When the case involving the legality of the sale of bonds by the Bank of North Dakota to Spitzer, Barwick & Co. came before the district court this afternoon, an affidavit of prejudice was filed against Judge Nuesle by Attorney General Lewis. There was doubt in the court's mind as to whether or not an affidavit of prejudice was effective in such a case, and the matter was referred to the supreme court.

The tax rate for 1921 in Burleigh county will total 41.63 mills compared to 40.78 mills last year. The levy has been completed by County Auditor Johnson, based upon budgets of the various subdivisions, modified in accordance with the tax limitation law.

The rates follow: City of Bismarck, schools, 17.26; City of Bismarck, civil 13.42 mills; state and county, 10.75 mills, total 41.63 mills.

Last year the levy was: City of Bismarck, schools, 15.45; City of Bismarck, civil, 15.27; state and county, 9.06 mills, total, 40.78 mills.

The levy for this year is slightly higher than last. The total amount to be raised by taxation is considerably less. The valuation is less, causing the higher rate. There is a decrease of approximately $90,000 in the amount to be raised. It is figured.

The budget for the city this year is $92,599; the schools, $119,040; the county and state combined, $203,600.

There is a decrease in all levies except the state, which is increased from 1.9 to 3.38 mills.

NESTOS HOLDS MEETING WITH STATE BANKERS

Discusses Financial Condition of the State in Meeting
Held at Fargo

TO FORMULATE POLICY

Nestos Plans For An Audit Of
All State Departments
Soon

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 9.—Conferring in Fargo with a group of prominent bankers representative of all sections of the state, R. A. Nestos, governor-elect, asked the assistance of the financial leaders of the state in developing three specific lines of state work.

First, Mr. Nestos asked for the aid and counsel of the bankers in bringing about an immediate audit of all state departments; an accounting of all funds; an analysis of the condition of the various industries, the audit to be made as early as possible, and with the least possible expense.

Secondly, he asked the advice of the bankers in formulating a policy for the bank examiner's department, a department which the governor-elect asserted is without question the most important of all.

Thirdly, he asked suggestions concerning the carrying on the work of the Bank of North Dakota, both with respect to the drawing out of frozen public funds, and the continuance of the farm loan department with efficiency and to the end that real results may be obtained for the farmers.

Wants Best Advice Possible.

The conference was held in the Gardner hotel, upon the joint suggestion of Mr. Nestos and the bankers.

"I feel that it is absolutely essential that we have the whole-hearted co-operation of the financial interests in this period of the states development," said Mr. Nestos.

"It is absolutely essential to the welfare of the state that we do everything possible to re-establish the credit of the state and the people, and in this work we must have the co-operation of the bankers. It is for the purpose of obtaining such co-operation that today's conference is being held."

In the development of his several points before the bankers, Mr. Nestos said it was essential to a successful handling of the state's affairs that there be full knowledge concerning the actual condition of all state departments, industries and funds. This can be acquired, he said, only through an audit, and he asked of the bankers that they give him advice as to the manner in which this audit can be most efficiently and most economically handled.

Like Deal to All.
Concerning the bank examiner's department, Mr. Nestos advised that it was his intention to name a new examiner. For this position, he told the bankers that it was his desire that the place be filled by a man with thorough banking experience, and with such knowledge as to make him valuable to the state not only in the conduct of the department as relates to the going banks, but also as to the closed banks. Conservation of the assets of the closed banks, the governor-elect said, is absolutely essential to the welfare of the whole state.

"It is my desire that the banking department be so conducted that every closed bank that can possibly be reopened, shall be permitted so to do, and that every bank, regardless of whether it is a so-called 'league bank' or not, is given equal opportunity to weather the crisis," Mr. Nestos told the bankers.

Discussing the Bank of North Dakota, Mr. Nestos took the position that in the appointment of a manager, and in the conduct of the institution, each phase of the situation should be so handled as to reflect advantage to the state. The sale of bonds for the purpose of permitting the Bank of North Dakota to liquidate claims held against it by counties, school districts, etc., was cited by Mr. Nestos as absolutely essential. The re-establishment of the farm loan department on a working basis was also declared by Mr. Nestos to be of vital importance.

BAND OF SIX MEN DISCOVERED
TRYING TO ENTER BANK; POSSE
GIVES BATTLE, BANDITS FLEE

Two Attempts Made Early This Morning to Commit Robberies in the Town of Wing, Being Frustrated When Nightwatchman Discovers Them and Arouses People of the Town.

A band of six robbers tried to make a general house-cleaning in Wing, 50 miles northeast of here, early this morning, according to reports received here.

They were discovered trying to enter the Burleigh County State Bank, apparently tried to enter the Wing Mercantile company's store and, according to a report received by Sheriff Welch, tried to enter the Farmers State Bank.

A hastily organized posse gave battle to the robbers, driving them out of town after they first entered about 1 o'clock. Many shots were fired but no one was injured. The robbers returned again about 4 o'clock and were frightened away.

COST OF STATE
MILL, ELEVATOR
IS $2,250,000

Estimate Arrived at in Conference of Official with Builders of Mill

OVER A MILLION SPENT

New Mortgages To Be Filed On Which 6 Per Cent Bonds
Would Be Issued

The uncompleted mill and elevator property of the state of North Dakota at Grand Forks is appraised at $1,049,000, according to H. A. Paddock, secretary of the Industrial Commission. Mr. Paddock said today that a mortgage covering this property and the Drake mill would be filed soon in Grand Forks and McHenry counties, it being necessary to file mortgages before mill and elevator bonds can be issued.

Several weeks ago the mortgages which had been placed of the property was cancelled and the outstanding bonds recalled, so that a new issue of 6 per cent bonds could be issued. Appraisement of the Grand Forks property, Mr. Paddock said, was made by Samuel Torgeson, George Buckingham and Mr. Berger, of Grand Forks.

The estimated cost of the mill and elevator complete, including installation of machinery, is $2,250,000, he said, the figure having been arrived at after a conference with engineers. Work on the mill has been suspended for several months.

Bank Pays Treasurer.
The Bank of North Dakota has paid $22,945.63 to the state treasurer, heing payment on principal and interest of arm loans made by the bank, the mortgage for which were assigned to the state treasurer preparatory to the issuance of bonds.

Officials have not ascertained the amount of principal due on the amortization plan and the interest which should have been paid by the recipients of the farm loans, but it is estimated that total payments due the state would amount to not less than $175,000. Some payments have been made to the state treasurer since the mortgages were assigned.

Mortgages totaling $2,062,265.85 had been assigned to the state until yesterday when additional mortgages totaling $506,068.00 were turned over to the state treasurer.

The state Industrial Commission has received payment for $1,952,000 of bonds of the real estate series, sold to an eastern firm under contract and to miscellaneous purchasers, according to H. A. Paddock, secretary of the Industrial Commission.

FARGO HIGH
STILL IN RACE

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 9.—Fargo high school still remains in the state football race and holds the championship of the southern district as the result of a 34 to 7 win over Jamestown high school at Dacotah held yesterday afternoon.

The superiority of the Fargo team was evident from the start of the contest. Jamestown fans who thought the first tie contest with Fargo was only an indication that the Jimtown squad could win in the second contest found they were in error shortly after the contest started.

According to information received by The Tribune over long-distance telephone, six men entered the town from the west, after leaving their car a short distance out of the city. Part of the gang was discovered trying to enter the Burleigh County State Bank.

Church Bell Is Rung

George Pipekorn, night watchman, discovered the robbers. The church bell was rung and citizens scampared out of bed to join Pipekorn. Constable Joe Kohler and others in the gun battle. The robbers backed slowly away in the face of the advancing posse, many shots being exchanged. A bullet whistled a foot over the head of one citizen, and one bullet penetrated the roof of a house. The robbers left two revolvers in their haste, and it is said they also had shot guns but did not use them. A crowbar and sledge hammer also were left. It was about four o'clock when they returned, were discovered and beat a hasty retreat.

Sheriff Welch was executive 2 gun, the cruiser which was executive 2 gun, about 8 o'clock this morning. Word was sent out to many towns through which the robbers probably would pass in making their getaway.

Sheriff Welch urged the maintenance of a night watchman in all small towns in the country, as there are bands of robbers operating in the state, robbing banks and small country stores.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Her progress up the Potomac river marked by periodic rendition of the salute usually accorded the chief executive, the cruiser Olympia brought to his home land today the unknown soldier representative of thousands of American soldiers dead overseas.

The program designed to express the nation's honor for its war dead began when the Olympia turned this morning into the wide reaches of the Potomac. The battleship North Dakota lying at anchor off the entrance to the river dipped her ensign in salute. As the cruiser proceeded toward her berth at the Washington navy yard, Fort Washington and Washington barracks signalled her passage, each with the presidential salute of 21 guns.

CORN TOTAL IS DECREASED

Washington, Nov. 9.—The corn crop declined slightly during October. Today's preliminary estimates of the production made by the department of agriculture being 11,285,000 bushels less than was forecast a month ago. The total crop this year will be 1,151,000,000 bushels, still one of the largest ever produced.

Preliminary estimates of other crops were announced as follows: Buckwheat, 14,884 bushels; potatoes, 55,000,000; sweet potatoes, 1,541,000; flaxseed, 9,260,000; sugar beets, 7,500,000; 1,254,724,000.

DISCUSS CUTS IN BUDGET TO BE MADE HERE

City Commission Defers Action
Upon Reductions Made
Necessary By H. B. 25

PASS TAXICAB ORDINANCE

Require Owners of Motor Vehicles for Hire to Have Accident Liability Insurance

Members of the city commission in meeting last night discussed methods of paring the city budget to bring it within the limits under the approval by the supreme court of the validity of the tax limitation measure.

The commission must cut $14,000 from the budget as it was approved. It has not been decided whether the cut will be prorated among the various items that go to make up the budget and decision was deferred until next week. The budget for 1920 was $116,322.54. It was fixed this year by the commission at $106,900 and must be cut to $92,667.00.

The city of Fargo took a drastic step by cutting off practically all lights in the city and discharged employees because of the necessity of cutting the budget but it is not expected that there will be any such drastic step in the city of Bismarck.

Pass Taxicab Ordinance.
The commission passed an ordinance requiring owners of taxicabs and other motor vehicles conveying passengers for hire to provide themselves with and keep on file with the city auditor a policy of insurance insuring against loss by accident. A fine of not more than $100, or not more than 90 days imprisonment is provided for violation.

Charles Thompson complained that two lights had been totally out for two nights within the last several days and complained that the city should not pay for such when it was not rendered.

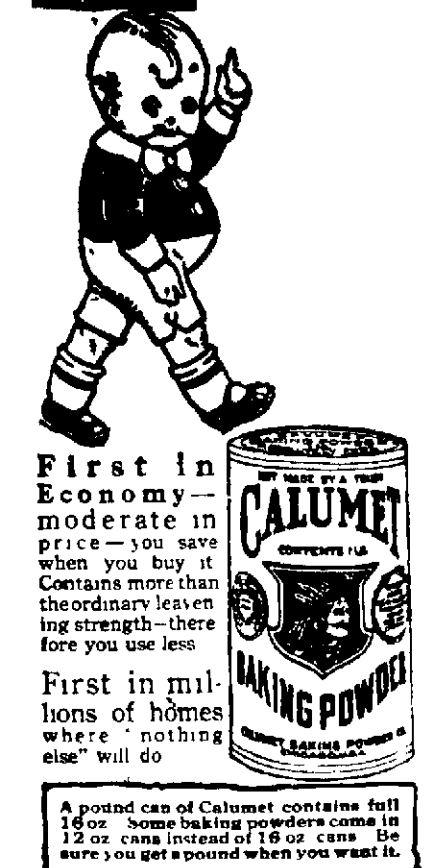

The commission declined to grant petitions of the Lincoln Realty company and Capt. J. P. Baker for the withdrawal of certain lands from the city limits, the lands lying southwest and southeast of the populated section of the city.

BLONDS, ADIEU! NO MORE IN U. S. IN 40 YEARS!

By NEA Service
Philadelphia Nov. 8—Madam, for give your husband for casting the lingering eye upon the blond.

His interest may be sentimental, but more likely hell tell you it's purely scientific—and get away with it.

For the blond is vanishing in two generations. We in the United States will see no blonds except the imported or the drug store varieties.

This information comes from none other than Dr. Austin O'Malley, noted anthropologist of Philadelphia. He fixes the deadline for blonds at the 45th parallel of latitude. This traverses the United States approximately from Bangor, Me.

through St. Paul, Minn. to Portland, Ore.

"Blonds cannot survive below the 45th parallel," says Dr. O'Malley, "and even in Minnesota they will have a hard time of it. This of course means that the American race soon will be dark—almost Mediterranean."

"It's sad to dwell upon," says the doctor, "for fairness and beauty have been almost synonymous throughout the ages. All the great heroines of painting and literature, from Helen of Troy to Polyanna, have been blonds."

"So it's time the brunet had her day."

In two generations when artists speak of the American type they will mean the brunet.

HARDING ASKS OBSERVANCE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Wires Governor Setting Out in Full Detail Manner of Observance

SAME OVER THE COUNTRY

People of North Dakota are urged by President Harding in a telegram to Governor Frazier to observe Armistice Day, Friday, Nov. 11, and pay tribute to the heroic dead by a two minute silent prayer.

Governor Frazier in making public the telegram, stated that he hoped the people of North Dakota would respond to the request and would pay this tribute to the memory of those who gave their lives in defense of the country.

The telegram from the President says:
The Governor of North Dakota,
Bismarck, North Dakota.

I have the honor to bring cheerfully to your notice a proclamation issued by the President on November 4, declaring Armistice day, November 11, 1921, a holiday and to invite your especial attention to the recommendations therein made to the governors of the states concerning the observance of the day.

"Whereas, a joint resolution of Congress approved November 4, 1921, to declare November 11, 1921, a legal public holiday provides as follows:
"Whereas Armistice day, November 11, 1921, has been designated as the appropriate time for the ceremonies incident to the burial of the unknown and unidentified American soldier in the Arlington National cemetery and

"Whereas, this unknown soldier represents the manhood of America who gave their lives to defend its integrity, honor and tranquility against any enemy and

"Whereas, the nations of the earth are on that date joining with the United States in paying respect and homage to this unknown soldier; therefore "Be It Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled that the President is hereby authorized to issue a proclamation declaring November 11, 1921, a holiday as a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the late World War and to the unknown and unidentified American soldiers who are to be buried in Arlington National cemetery on that day and the President is respectfully requested to recommend to the governors of the various states that proclamations be issued by them calling upon their people to pause in their pursuits as a mark of respect on this solemn occasion.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of the said joint resolution of Congress do hereby declare November 11, 1921, a holiday as a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the late World War as typified by the unknown and unidentified American soldier who is to be buried in Arlington National cemetery on that day and do hereby recommend to the governors of the several states that proclamations be issued by them calling upon the people of their respective states to pause in their usual pursuits as a mark of respect on this solemn occasion and in order that the solemnity of the occasion may be further emphasized I do hereby furthermore recommend that all public and church bells throughout the United States be tolled at intervals between 11:45 o'clock A. M. and 12 o'clock noon of the said day, and that from 12 o'clock noon to two minutes past that hour, Washington time all devout and patriotic citizens of the United States indulge in a period of silent thanks to God for these valuable valorous lives and of supplication for His Divine mercy and for His blessings upon our beloved country.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. ## How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes wornout, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N I on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.

BOYS OF CITY GROUPED FOR BIG PROGRAM

Meeting Held in High School
Last Night and Decision is Made

"Come on fellows, get into the game!"

This is the appeal of some 60 ruddy-faced boys who last night gathered in the high school building under the direction of the leaders in the boys' welfare organization formed recently to be grouped for the elaborate winter program outlined by J. J. MacLeod, boys' work director.

Eighty boys were present. They were formed into nine groups. These groups will be enlarged and other groups for other boys will be formed until it is hoped by the directors of the work, every boy in the city will be included.

All boys in the city from 10 to 12 years of age are called upon to meet at the high school from 9:30 to 10:30 Saturday morning for physical work and all boys of 12 to 14 years of age are asked to meet at 10:30 o'clock in the high school.

Men who have agreed to lead groups in the boys' welfare program are George E. Wallace, chairman of the organization, J. E. Kautzsch, A. Loehrke, C. W. Smith, Clyde Bonham, Clarence Larson, Superintendent of Schools, J. M. Martin and Principal W. H. DeBolt of the high school were present.

After the boys were divided into groups not already formed they went into various rooms and completed organization and then engaged in contests and athletic exercises in the gymnasium.

'813' APPEARS WITH WEDGWOOD NOWELL

Mysterious Arsene Lupin Story
By Maurice Leblanc, Creates Deep Interest

One of the greatest mystery pictures ever produced on the screen is '813', a combination detective love story in which Wedgwood Nowell, one of America's premier character actors, appears in his latest role. # CHURCHES OF NORTH DAKOTA OBSERVING ARMISTICE WEEK

Special Services Were Held On Sunday For Success Of Disarm Meeting

Churches of North Dakota are observing Armistice Week with meeting and prayer services. Disarmament Sunday suggested by the Federal Council of Churches was quite generally observed last Sunday with a sermon and special prayers for the success of the Disarmament Conference. Special masses special meetings all lead up to the thought of special prayer services on Armistice day when the problems of the Disarmament Conference will have the reverent and prayerful thought of the church communicants of the state.

Grand Forks will consider the problems of the conference in a series of meetings held throughout the week. The first session was held Monday evening and sessions will be held each evening to Thursday, while all the ministers and people will combine in a prayer meeting Armistice Day morning. The meetings are in the Baptist church and the subject and speakers are:

Monday night "The Staggering Burden of a Warring World." Rev. L. B. Robertson of the Congregationalist church.

Tuesday night "The Causes of the Big Armament of a Warring World." Rev. J. G. York of the Baptist church.

Wednesday night "Problems Before the Washington Conference." Svenbjorn Johnson, attorney general elect.

Thursday night "The Distinct Contribution of the Church in Establishing a Warless World." Rev. Geo. A. Henry of the Methodist church.

The Armistice Day prayer meeting will be held at the Episcopal church. In the Diocese of Fargo of the Catholic church, which comprises 32 counties services will be held in all of the churches. A definite call to prayer has been issued by Bishop O'Reilly, who is making public the program of his churches said.

"Prayers will be offered to God to give light and strength to those assembled at the great Conference to bring that disarmament of the nations that may insure the future peace of the world."

Members of the Episcopal church in North Dakota have been asked by their Bishop, the Rev. J. Hyatt Tyler, to gather in their churches on Armistice day for prayer for the success of the disarmament program and "consideration of a greater love and a more genuine patriotism for the United States. Special prayers will also be a part of the service of the church for the world."

Churches of North Dakota were hampered in the observance of the day in a formal manner by the fact that most of the state conventions were held before the state meetings. The organization of many also, did not give them a definite state head to speak for them between the meetings.

Members of the Lutheran church in the state, have been urged through their press, to commemorate the day, while the Rev. P. A. Mattson, President of the Minnesota Conference, of which North Dakota is a part, has called upon the different mission districts of the conference to join in prayers for the success of the disarmament program.

Methodist churches, through the Area Messenger which reprinted the call of the Federal Council of Churches, have been asked to keep open throughout Armistice Day, that the membership might come at a time or in groups to make intercession for the success of the disarmament meeting.

Members of the Presbyterian church, through the religious press of the denomination have been asked to make this entire week one of special prayer for the success of the conference, while Wm. B. Roe, moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of North Dakota, adds that it is his understanding that the churches' meditation shall be "that something practical in the way of limitations of armament may be effected."

Church activities for disarmament will not close with this week, although special services may not be held in the individual churches, for going on from Armistice Day many conferences will be held in which the disarmament of the world will be the theme. In some of these conferences, representatives of the state will be present, to give assurance of the attitude of the state. This attitude is amply set forth in the activities of the present week and in the many meetings called for the morning of next Friday.

88TH DIVISION IS UNDERGOING REORGANIZATION

Capt. G. A. Anderson Assigned As Instructor For N. D. National Guard

UNITS ARE ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the assignment of North Dakota Counties of twenty units of the 88th Division, organized reserves, has been received here from Col. H. O. Willard, division chief of staff. Announcement was made from the division headquarters at Minneapolis. The 88th Division now is in process of complete reorganization.

Announcement of the North Dakota units followed closely the assignment of Capt. G. A. Anderson as instructor for the North Dakota National Guard. Captain Anderson was head of Company B. of Fargo when that organization was called to the Mexican border. He was transferred to the regular army while there and remained with the regulars at the close of the war. He already has taken up his work with the state department.

The units announced for North Dakota and the counties to which they were assigned, follow:

To Cass County: Headquarters, 349th Motor Transport Company; headquarters Company C, 341 Motor Repair Battalion; 313 engineering regiment and 576 Motor Transport Company.

To Morton County: Headquarters, 532nd engineers battalion.

To Grand Forks County: One-half medical regiment and 675 Motor Transport Company.

To Burleigh County: 7th corps train.

To Traill County: 345 Motor Transport Command.

To Barnes County: 574 Motor Transport Company.

To Pembina County: 577 Motor Transport Company.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

CLEAR THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and cools the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did

W. E. Curry, 139 Up 6th St., Evansville, Ind. writes: "I have a little girl 8 years who has a bad cold all through the winter. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound giving it her according to directions and obtaining relief for her. My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough and I will say that it is the best remedy I have had for colds, throat trouble or cough that I ever saw."

Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm will come even if an overdose should be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people.

FRAU SCHRATT COMING FOR OUR AMERICAN DOLLARS

MADAME KATHARINE SCHRATT

Lifelong Friend of Old Emperor Feels Pinch of Poverty

By NEA Service

Vienna, Nov. 8.—America will see Frau Schratt—for a price.

This actress, who will go down in history as a friend of the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, is feeling the pinch of poverty.

It is to replenish her fortunes that she is preparing to accept the offer of an American theatrical producer to star in a comedy in several American cities.

But Madame Katherine Schratt refuses to trade in her intimate knowledge of the Hapsburgs. Of the emperor she says merely, "He was just my very good friend."

At her beautiful villa at Hietzing, near Schoenbrunn, close to one of the palaces of the old emperor, she told the NEA Service correspondent that:

SHE WOULD NOT make a movie serial dealing with tragic events in the Hapsburg dynasty.

SHE WOULD NOT write her memories, including many letters written her by the emperor.

SHE WOULD NOT go on a lecture tour, discussing affairs of the Hapsburgs.

Offers of fabulous sums to do all three have been made her by American promoters. But she has declined them all. However, returning to the stage appeals to her differently.

Her itinerary

"My proposed tour," said Frau Schratt, "contemplates 10 performances in New York, five each in Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati, and single performances in several other cities. The tour, if successful as expected, probably will be extended."

Madame Schratt has been in America before, many years ago. She thinks Americans will like a comedy which she is considering for her vehicle. It is "Grandmama," by a Hungarian playwright.

"I may as well frankly admit," she said, "that the prospect of earning many American dollars is not without its attraction."

"People like myself dependent upon capital invested in Austrian properties, are living very poorly."

"I am fortunate, however, for to me the drama is a high art—and what artist can be truly happy without her art?"

MANDAN NOTES

Knights of Pythias Have Homecoming

Grand Chancellor John L. Bowers of the Knights of Pythias domain of North Dakota was a guest of honor Monday night at his home lodge, Mandan, No. 11, when the organization held its annual homecoming meeting.

About 100 Pythians were present for the meeting, the largest session of the season and two candidates were given the initiatory work in the second rank, which was unusually well exemplified.

Following the lodge meeting members gathered around the banquet board and the Nut Quartette entertained the assembly for half an hour. H. H. Williams acted as toastmaster and called upon Mr. Bowers who outlined his desire for a greatly increased membership during his tenure of office as grand chancellor of the state. Col. I. N. Steen of Carson and Judge J. M. Manley felicitated Mr. Bowers on the high honors he had earned and also upon his birthday. A feature of the party was a mammoth birthday cake for the grand chancellor ablaze with 62 candles.

Leaves to Attend Methodist Conference

Dr. H. S. Harris will leave on Thursday for Detroit, Mich., to attend a national conference of bishops, district superintendents, and heads of Methodist institutions. The conference will cover five days and will be devoted to an extensive study of world conditions and the part of the church must play in a restoration of stability of government.

"The entire expense of the conference is being met by a few laymen who feel the conditions are so tense as to call for the Christian churches taking a firm stand for righteousness in government and the spread of the Christian religion over the nations of the world as the only means of attaining that end," said Rev. Harris.

Mrs. D. E. Nichols of Harlowton, Mont., has arrived in Mandan, and will make an extended visit at the home of her sisters, Mrs. Ed Morck and Mrs. W. J. Mackin.

Attorney I. N. Steen of Carson, was visiting friends in the city Monday. Mr. Steen attended the Homecoming meeting of the Knights of Pythias here.

A. W. Furness has gone to Poplar, Mont., on a business trip.

C. L. Reynolds of Winnetka, Mont., has returned to his home after a several days visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Black entertained a number of friends at their home Monday evening. A pleasant evening was spent playing cards.

W. G. Black has gone to Fargo on a business trip.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver, and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work with no gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two not before but after meals. Eat what you like. 15c and 50c.

CUSHIONS.

If you have a quantity of silk which you can use no other way, cut it in strips and braid it as you would for rag carpets. Let the color come together in any way they will and then tack the braids circularly on the pillow top which you have made of ordinary muslin or lining. The result is a rather richly colored, heavy looking cushion.

Twenty-four carat gold is absolutely pure.

GENUINE Bayer Aspirin for COLDS

Warning! Unless you say "Bayer," you may not get genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for 21 years and proved safe by millions.

Accept only an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains proper directions not only for Colds, but for Headache, Pain, Toothache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—Bottles of 24 and 100—All Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocessicacidester of Salicylic Acid.

Waldorf Sodas—the Dainty Cracker for all Occasions

BIG SIOUX Waldorf Sodas may now be obtained in a very convenient size red tin. This new and attractive package contains delicious, fresh crackers—so wonderfully appetizing and satisfying with hot soup.

Soda crackers to be perfect should be kept away from moisture and foreign odors.

Waldorfs, like the whole line of Big Sioux cookie-cakes and crackers, are pure and wholesome. Pure because only tested ingredients are baked into them. Wholesome, because those ingredients contain the elements the body needs to replace the energy it uses up in the course of the day's work.

At Every Meal—Big Sioux Cookies, Cakes and Crackers

Look for the Big Sioux trademark when you buy cookie-cakes or crackers. It is your guarantee that whatever you buy under that mark is strictly pure—baked in a modern bakery by bakers who have behind them the skill born of 20 years' experience.

(Established 1873)

COSTS YOU $1
Do you want to do something at a very small cost, to provide expert medical assistance for disabled war veterans?
Of course, you do!

Then reach in your pocket for $1. to renew your membership in the American Red Cross.
Annual Red Cross Roll Call begins Nov. 11. It ends Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24.

There is no way in which you can spend a dollar more wisely. The Red Cross gets at least 200 cents out of every dollar.

For the current fiscal year, it needs $19,361,657. This is $5,000,000 less than it spent last year, which demonstrates the efficient management of Red Cross funds.

Your $1, given to the Red Cross, is certain to prevent much suffering and provide much comfort for some disabled war veteran.

It will also help in child welfare work, and for relief in great disasters such as famines, floods and plagues.

Red Cross Roll Call, starting the same day as the disarmament conference, is a conference to disarm disease and suffering. One dollar makes you a delegate. It is the original noble cause. And only $1—the price of a few movie seats! Give more if you can.

IN COMPETENT HANDS
The administrative officers elected by the Bureleigh county Red Cross Chapter last evening assure the members that the affairs of that society for the ensuing year will be in competent hands. The election of Mrs. F. L. Conklin as chairman, Dr. Schipfer as vice-chairman and J. L. Bell as secretary-treasurer places the direction of Red Cross activities in this county in most competent hands.

There is much work to be done during the next year in the way of Red Cross relief and there should be a quickening of interest in the work of this great society.

The administration will continue along the conservative lines as in the past and disbursements of funds will be in strict accordance with the rules and regulations laid down by the national officers.

ARMISTICE DAY
Those patriotic citizens, all of them service men with distinguished records, who spoke from the stages of the local theaters last evening performed a fine public service in impressing upon the people the real significance of Armistice Day. It is a time of mixed emotions. There is an element of solemnity that must predominate as the day seeks to rivet attention upon the services of those who fell in freedom's cause. Then again there is a note of joy because of the approaching conference upon disarmament and a promise at least that nations will seek to prevent war through the regulations of armaments and the settlement of conflicting policies by arbitration.

Armistice Day affords a great opportunity to instill love of country and respect for her traditions and ideals. Every citizen should at least pause at the appointed period and give thanks for the great deliverance and there should rise in every breast an honest hope that the approaching conference of nations will bring some reasonable guaranty of continued peace and general world amity.

ALWAYS A CHANCE
A heavy snowstorm scene is needed in "The Two Orphans," now being filmed by D. W. Griffith. Paper snow was used when this classic melodrama was a ten-twenty-third thriller. But paper snow is no good for the movies.
Making a movie picture is decidedly a business proposition. It requires as much planning ahead as getting ready for an exploring trip to the North Pole.

If snow doesn't fall when needed, where "The Two Orphans" is being filmed, the Griffith organization will be put to great financial loss and inconvenience.
So an insurance policy for $25,000 is taken out. Griffith gets that sum if it doesn't snow heavily before Nov. 20.

Lloyds, of London, specializes in freak insurance. It will bet on anything, taking either side. It insures wives against having twins. It insures dogs against mange. One customer asked and got a policy protecting him against accidentally breaking his false teeth.
A Kansas farmer has an orchard of 4000 apple treas. Lloyds protects him with a $25,000 policy against frost, and a $50,000 policy against tornado.

A master thief once wanted Lloyds to insure him against arrest. He had figured out that chance of arrest was remote and that he might get a low rate. Lloyds turned him down. Mathematically, an insurance company could figure out the chances of arrest in any given crime, and the rate that should be paid if a policy were written.

These cases of freak insurance policies are based on the mathematical law of probabilities. The gamblers who try to beat the bank at Monte Carlo use this law in working out their systems. So many chances a thing will happen, so many chances against.

The operation of the law of probabilities should comfort those who are in despair.

No matter how hopeless a situation looks, there is always at least once chance of finding a way out.

Over-confident people should keep in mind the reverse of this law—no matter how sure a thing looks, there always are certain chances of failure.

The Great Unexpected frequently happens. Guard against it. Play safe.

GONE
Lumber is being cut in the United States at the rate of 33,798,800,000 feet a year. That is equivalent to a plank four inches wide, two inches thick and 40 feet long, for each man, woman and child.

Seems like a small amount. But picture a procession of 106,000,000 people, each walking out of the woods with a plank like that, and you realize that forests are being destroyed faster than they are growing.

The day when lumber will be as scarce as hen's teeth is not far in the future, unless the nation stops its forest destruction or replants a tree for each one cut down.

FUTURE
Future generations will live to be 300 years old, says a big insurance expert. That is getting to be old stuff and doesn't cause much comment. But the insurance man makes his audience sit up and take notice, by prophesying that the legal age will be 125 years, in that glorious future.
No one has any sense until at least 80. Twenty-one for men and 18 for women is too soon for the legal age. It should be advanced. Difficulty is, majority of minds never mature. Some folks wouldn't mature mentally if they lived to be 1000.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

ON THE WAY TO THE CONFERENCE
This is a time of quickened memories for hundreds of millions of people over the world. Men and nations have put their hates to the supreme test and have lost by them. They must rely on something different and better now, or the loss of those old hates not only will be retrieved, but will be augmented as the years go on.

The third anniversary of the signing of the armistice is near at hand. Congress voted to make the day a national holiday, and the President has issued his proclamation calling for observance of it. He asks the ringing of public bells and church bells at a designated time and for two minutes of silence as a tribute of thought and a symbol of gratitude to those who gave their lives for their country's cause.

Here in Minneapolis there have been solemn ceremonies connoting the national feeling which will grow more and more sharp as November 11 approaches. Two such ceremonies were held in our churches yesterday. They commemorated the soldier dead tenderly and eloquently, but they also commemorated the service and sacrifice and heroism of the living—those who went to war and came back again.

The service in Arlington cemetery on Friday, when an unknown American soldier's body will be laid to rest, is to be a silent call to the whole country to think how great has been the price of our liberties, how precious those liberties are, and how they might be preserved in future at less sacrifice of life and treasure if men and nations would but take due heed of the waste, the travails and the tragedies of the past, due to lusts and hates, and try to arrive at some better way to live with one another.

In this country at least it is to be a tender, thought-compelling work preceding one of the great international conferences of all time. The American people have learned since the war, however, not to let themselves rely overmuch on an idealism for which they now know mankind is not prepared in mind or spirit. The trend of mankind is an upward trend, but the pace is slow. The millennium of which men have talked and dreamed is yet far off. Tennyson's picture is a thing of the future:

Till the war-drums throbbed no longer,
And the battle-flags were furled
In the Parliament of man,
The Federation of the world.

He flew on tireless wing.
To him the aspect must seem strange,
The haunts he loved so well,
Have given way to Man's domain,
While forests grow and fell;
From where he used to rear his young,
And have his ancient homes,
He sees uprising to the skies
A city's spires and domes.
Oh, grand and noble warrior bird,
Thy fierce and piercing eye,
Hast seen the birth of Freedom's race,
From out the distant sky;
And, were it given thee to speak,
Strange things thy lips could tell,
But like the mountain, lake and rill,
You keep your secret well.

THE PARABLE OF THE PRODIGAL FATHER

"A certain man had two sons, and the younger of them said to his father, 'Give me the portion of thy time, and thy attention, and thy companionship, and thy counsel and guidance which falleth to me.'
'And he divided unto them his living in that he paid the boy's bills, and sent him to select preparatory school, and to dancing schools and to college and tried to believe that he was doing his full duty by the boy.'
'And not many days after the father gathered all his interests and aspirations and ambitions and took his journey into a far country, into a land of stocks and bonds and securities, and other things which do not interest a boy, and there he wasted his precious opportunities of being a chum to his son.
'And when he had spent the very best of his life and had gained money, but had failed to find satisfaction, there arose a mighty famine in his heart, and he began to be in want of sympathy and real companionship.
'And he went and joined himself to one of the clubs of that country, and they elected him chairman of the club, and sent him to the legislature.
'And he felt would have satisfied himself with the hussies that other men did eat and no man gave unto him any real friendship.
'But when he came to himself, he said: 'How many men of my acquaintance have boys whom they understand and who understand them, who talk about their boys and associate with their boys and seem perfectly happy in the comradeship of their sons, and I perish here with heart hunger. I will arise and go to my son and will say unto him, 'Son, I have sinned against Heaven and in thy sight, and am no more worthy of being called thy father. Make me as one of thy acquaintances.' And he arose and came to his son.
'But while he was afar off his son saw him and was moved with astonishment, and instead of running and falling on his neck, he drew back and was ill at ease. And the father said unto him, 'Son, I have sinned against Heaven and in thy sight. I have not done my duty by you, and am not more worthy to be called thy father. Forgive me now and let me be your chum.'
'But the son said, 'I wish it were possible, but it is too late. There was a time when I wanted to know things, when I wanted companionship and advice and counsel, but you were too busy. I got the information and I got the companionship, but I got the wrong kind.'
'Bobbled hair and measles started the row in Constance Talmadge's picture "Wedding Bells," which is showing at the Eltinge today and tomorrow.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

The Twins thought that it was time they were doing something to break up the meeting, so they made their way through the popweed tangle to the place where all the fish-ladies were quarrelling about their clothes, and who was the finest 'n' all. They certainly did wear fine clothes.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

MRS. HANLON IS NOW A WELL AND HAPPY WOMAN

After Suffering Nine Years She Declares Her Health Has Been Perfectly Restored
"That I am a well and happy woman today I owe to Tanlac and nothing else," said Mrs. G. Hanlon, 328 Thirteenth Ave., Northeast, Minneapolis, Minn.
"I had fallen off so in weight and strength as a result of nine years' continued suffering from stomach trouble that I had almost lost all hope. I had tried dieting and medicines of various kinds but received no benefit.
"Tanlac seemed to reach my case right from the start, and I kept improving as I took it until now I am in perfect health. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for the benefits I have received."
"Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere."

Nancy thought, especially Mrs. Wrasse and Mrs. Goby. Indeed, all of them would have made the most wonderful of Christmas tree ornaments, for they shimmered and shone and glittered and glistened with all the colors of the rainbow.
Suddenly Mrs. Boar-Fish spied the little boy and girl looking at them. "Look!" she cried, pointing with her queer looking, long, piggy snout that was just like her husband's. Mrs. Boar-Fish was really proud of the "family nose" as she called it, for, as she said, "a good long nose is certainly a sign of character."
"Look!" she repeated. "Here comes someone who will decide the question. They look important to me, as they are wearing badges like Cap'n Pinywinkle's, so no doubt we may trust them. Suppose we ask them who is the most beautiful of us all."
"Yes, yes, yes," cried the others, swimming around the Twins. "Do tell us which is the most beautiful so that we may elect her president."
Nancy fell to thinking, then she said, "Mrs. Butter-Fish, for she stays home and helps her husband."
"But she is no tail!" accused Mrs. Blenny, indignantly.
"And no nose," answered bright Mrs. Boar-Fish, turning redder than ever.
"Or spots, or stripes," declared Mrs. Rock-Fish.
"Handsome is as handsome does," quoted Nancy, wisely.
The fish-ladies looked thoughtful. "She's right," they said, "we'll elect Mrs. Butter-Fish, and now we'd better go home to our families." Which they did.

EXPECT "SAFETY FIRST" WEEK TO BE GENERALLY OBSERVED

The state railroad commission makes the following announcement: Monday, November 10th, is the opening day of "Safety-First" Week in North Dakota, so declared by the Board of Railroad Commissioners as a part of their campaign to eliminate accidents at railroad grade crossings.

There are 4,000 grade crossings in this state, everyone of which is more or less dangerous. There have been over 94,000 automobile accidents in North Dakota, and this number will increase in the same proportion unless drivers of motor cars awake to the dangers of railroad grade crossings.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN before crossing a railroad track! Look both ways.

REMOVING FRUIT STAINS
If the fruit stains are fresh their removal is not so difficult a problem. With the fabric held taut over a bowl, pour boiling water through the stain. If the water is poured from a height it will be more effective, for the force aids in removal.

If the stains are obstinate, as is often the case with pers and peaches, treat them with sulphur fumes. Put a tablespoon of sulphur in a saucepan and add a bit of alcohol. Put a funnel over this, small end up. Wet the stain with cold water, light the alcohol and hold the stain over the funnel.

It is best to do this at an open window for that eliminates all danger of inhaling the fumes.

Sometimes, if the stain is small, simply wetting it and holding it under a burning match serves the purpose.

If the fruit stains are on the floor wash them with cold water, then cover them with baking soda and rub gently. When dry wash off the soda and the stain will have disappeared.

MR. BOWSER STARTS REFORM

But It Is Worse Than the Evil He Would Cure.

By M. QUAD.

Nothing so irritates Mr. Bowser as to have the street peddlers go up and down, in front of his house, yelling their wares, and, on many occasions, he has gone out and quarreled with them, but he has found them claiming their rights, their licenses from the city permitting them to yell.

The other night, as Mr. Bowser sat reading, a vegetable peddler stopped at his gate and kept calling out, for five long minutes. He had a voice like a hand-saw trying to saw a spike in two, and it must have made other people nervous. Mrs. Bowser feared that there would be a riot, and she began to drum on the piano, to distract Mr. Bowser's attention. It was in vain, however. He rose up with the exclamation:

"By thunder, woman, do you think I am going to stand that?"

"He will go home, presently," answered Mrs. Bowser, drumming louder than before.

"Stop that infernal racket! Isn't it bad enough to hear that fellow yell? I am going out and kill him. He is the one of all the ones who make this trouble. Just listen to his voice! Why, it would scare a baby to death!"

"Mr. Bowser, just wait one minute and he will drive on."

"I won't wait one blamed second! Don't you come out and mix in! There will be gore flying around, and I may also tip his wagon over and kill his horse!"

Mr. Bowser rushed down the hall and out of doors. He was bare-headed and wore his dressing gown. The peddler had not moved on. He was not going to. He sat there in his seat in a comfortable position, and he was going to yell as long as he wanted to. He saw Mr. Bowser coming out, and he called and he shouted:

"I have got them! Do you want some string beans? They are on a string! I have onions and potatoes and cucumbers! I have some of the nicest celery here that a king ever chewed on! Oh—oh—oh! Come and buy!"

Mr. Bowser came! And he had ground glass in his voice, as he said: "Look here, old fellow, you want to quit this! If you don't, I am going to murder you!"

"Say, old party, what ails you?"

"I'll show you what ails me! If you holler again, there'll be bloodshed!"

"Come, now, but I got to holler, or the folks won't know I am here. You wouldn't have known I was here, I am only making my living and you shouldn't object. Is it my voice you are afraid of?"

"Of course I complain about it!" answered Mr. Bowser. "It is the worst voice in the United States!"

"I'll tell you what is the trouble with my voice, Mr. Bowser, for you see, I know you. I was fool enough to bet five dollars that I could put a billiard ball in my mouth. I put it there, but I could not get it out again. The doctors worked at me for two days, and they knocked out most of my teeth. They finally had to get a stick and punch the ball down my throat. It is lodged right at the base of my throat and that's what the trouble is with my voice. I know that some folks don't like to hear me, but what am I to do? I have a wife and five children to support, and you should pity me, instead of thirsting for my life!"

Mr. Bowser lost a good part of his anger, and after a moment's thought, he said:

"Look here, now, I will tell you what to do. There is no need of all this yelling. You just come to the house, in a quiet and decent way, and ask if we want any of your stuff. If we do, we will buy it and so will other people. We must have reform in this thing, and that is the way to bring it about. Don't you see yourself that it is?"

"Why, yes, that seems a good plan," answered the peddler, and he drove off without any more yelling. Mr. Bowser pondered the house, to listen to Mrs. Bowser; and, though she smiled to herself as to who was right, she told

RED CROSS HAS NURSES IN NORTH DAKOTA

Splendid Results Obtained Throughout State in Public Health Nursing.

WITH 18 Red Cross nurses promoting better living conditions in connection with the other activities of the 73 chapters of the American Red Cross here in North Dakota, the importance of this work is of unusual interest.

The rural program has been found well adapted to this state, and many localities have been reached by this department of activity during the past year for the first time. Physical inspection of the children in the rural schools is one of the most important phases of this work. They are inspected for defective teeth, eyesight and hearing. Weighing and measuring are a part of this health program, and frequently nutrition classes are organized to help under-nourished children reach a normal development.

Clinics are organized as a result of these examinations, and the nurse co-operates with physicians, dentists and health authorities in this work. In many counties these clinics are brought directly to the people, with the doctor and dentist visiting every town and hamlet. This is especially true in communities where there is no dentist or physician.

Classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick have an important place in the public health nursing program of the American Red Cross. Traveling instructors give these lessons, teaching the women the essentials of correctly coping with minor illnesses.

Public health nurses frequently have adult classes in Home Hygiene as well as classes in the schools, thereby extending their service beyond routine of school inspection. During the year 1,714 women have passed the examinations and received certificates in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick.

Professional visits are made to many homes. This is an important factor in both rural and city nursing. In some sections there is but one physician to a county, and the services of the Red Cross nurse are a vital help in various emergencies which arise.

In both city and country communities the Red Cross has a clearly defined program which may be adapted to local needs. That 17 chapters since last year have realized the need of this work, and extended their program to include this very practical activity, proves the growing appreciation for this endeavor.

On Armistice day, November 11, the annual Roll Call of the Red Cross will be launched. Membership dollars will enable the Red Cross not only to carry on the valuable service it is already rendering, but expand its work to reach a wider field.

RAP RED TAPE IN U. S. SCHOOLS

National Survey Makes Charge
That Politicians Hamper Efficiency of Education.

FINANCES ARE ANALYZED

Teachers' Salaries Aggregate 64 Per Cent of Total Current Expenses of Schools—377 Cities Covered by Survey.

New York.—Two prime causes of an alleged "deplorable" condition of American public schools are red tape and the hampering of boards of education by politicians, according to a survey of public school boards and their receipts and expenditures, by the national committee, for chamber of commerce co-operation with the public schools and the American city bureau.

The survey, which covered 377 cities, said that in 47 per cent of cases where boards of education were "independent" or free from political manipulation the most efficient administrative and educational results are obtained.

City Officials Hamper Schools.
"The best interests of the public schools," says the report, "cannot be served in a city where the budget of the board of education may be reduced and remodeled by city officials."

The survey shows that the school receipts in the 377 cities for the last fiscal year were $353,290,000 and that the expenditures of these same cities during that period were about $2,000,000 less than income.

The funds are from five sources and are supplied in the following proportions: From the states, 11.6 per cent; the federal government, 1.3 per cent; the county, 5.7 per cent; local taxes, 65.4 per cent; nonrevenue or miscellaneous sources, including income from sale of bonds or short-time loans, 17 per cent. The survey shows that of all cities reporting 70 per cent do not receive a dollar from the federal government. Teachers' salaries aggregated $180,000,000, or 64 per cent of the total of the current expenses of the school.

85 Per Cent for Buildings.
The relation of capital outlay, aggregating $51,727,554, to the total expenditures showed that nearly 85 per cent was utilized on sites and new buildings. A total of $1,341,000 was expended for medical inspection and dental and nurse service in the 377 cities named. The part of the total expenditure spent for the alteration and equipment of old buildings was only 1.8 per cent. Commenting on this, the committee said:

"The smallness of this amount is of particular interest in connection with the findings of this committee in their report on school housing conditions in American cities. This report shows that a large percentage of the children in the public schools are continually menaced by the unsanitary conditions and fire hazards in many old school buildings now in use. In Eastern cities the conditions are particularly bad."

The basis for the committee's survey was an inquiry sent to the superintendents of schools in cities with populations in excess of 8,000.

MINNESOTA IS TO TRY CONCLUSIONS WITH MICHIGAN

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 9.—Minnesota's football team will go into action again November 19, when the University of Michigan is playing at Ann Arbor.

Following Saturday's defeat by Iowa, the worst ever suffered by a Minnesota team, coaches set to work to perfect a defense which will be able to turn back Michigan.

The Minnesota team has proved their ability to advance the ball in every game, but the weakness of the team on defense has so far discounted much attention will be given to tackling which, with some few exceptions, was poor throughout the Iowa game. The line will also come in for marked attention.

As in previous games, the forward wall failed in both the attack and the defense. Minnesota was unable to break through to open Iowa's perfect, which was permitted to form perfectly, and was sailing as top speed when the line was reached. Minnesota's line also failed to hold out the opposing forwards when the locals had the ball, with the result that every play was forced.

During the time before the Michigan game, intensive instruction in all points of the game will be given the local squad.

REPORT OF THE CITY BACTERIOLOGIST
GIFT
For the month of October, 1921, City Water—
Samples of the city water taken from the laboratory tap were found to be well within the standards. The bacterial count was low, and there was no evidence of contamination from sewerage organism. The turbidity was about 30 parts per million and some days under, which was very good showing. The water was safe for drinking.
City Milk—
Samples analyzed were found to be within the requirements.

City Auditor.

MINUTES OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF CITY COMMISSIONERS, MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 7TH, 1921.
The Board of City Commissioners met in session Monday evening, November 7th, 1921, at eight o'clock. Present: Commissioners French, Hennrich, Larson, Thompson and President Lapham. The minutes of the meeting held on October 31st, 1921, were read and approved. The ordinance requiring taxicabs to carry public liability insurance was amended so that there should be a penalty of a fine not exceeding $100.00 and imprisonment not exceeding 90 days for the violation of the same. The ordinance was read for the second time, and upon motion of Commissioner Thompson, seconded by Commissioner Larson, the same was passed, city commissioners voting aye. The report of the Police Magistrate for the month of October, 1921, was read and ordered filed. The report of the City Engineer for the month of October, 1921, was read and ordered published. The order of the Board of Public Works, Commissioners directing the Bismarck Water Supply Company to make the 11th Street extension before June 1st, 1922, was read and ordered filed. Findings were made in the case of the petition of P. Baker and the Lincoln Addition Improvement Company for the withdrawal from the city limits of certain tracts of lands. These findings denied the petitions. Commission-

BOILING RICE.
If you would keep the boiled rice very white and keep the kernels separate, put a few drops of lemon juice in the water in which you boil it.

GREASING GRIDDLES.
You can grease your griddle nicely by tying a thin piece of beef suet in a thin cloth and passing this over the griddle.

PREVENTING MOLD.
Add a drop of carbolic acid to the paste, or muckage and it will not mould.

Lowering the Cost of Living

Price is not the real test of economy. You can best reduce the cost of living in your home by purchasing goods that are standard in quality—that will give you longer service and greater value.

A sure test of quality merchandise is this: "Do you see it advertised consistently and persistently?" If you do, it is good value. No sane merchant or manufacturer would continue to spend good money advertising poor merchandise. When he urges you to buy his product, he is staking his good name on your satisfaction. And he can't afford to lose!

So read the advertisements—regularly. They protect you against fraud and inferiority. They tell you what is new and good—making you a wise buyer. And they save you money by selecting for your consideration only the best products in every line of merchandise.

Advertisements are written and printed for your benefit. Make it your habit to read them and profit by them.
